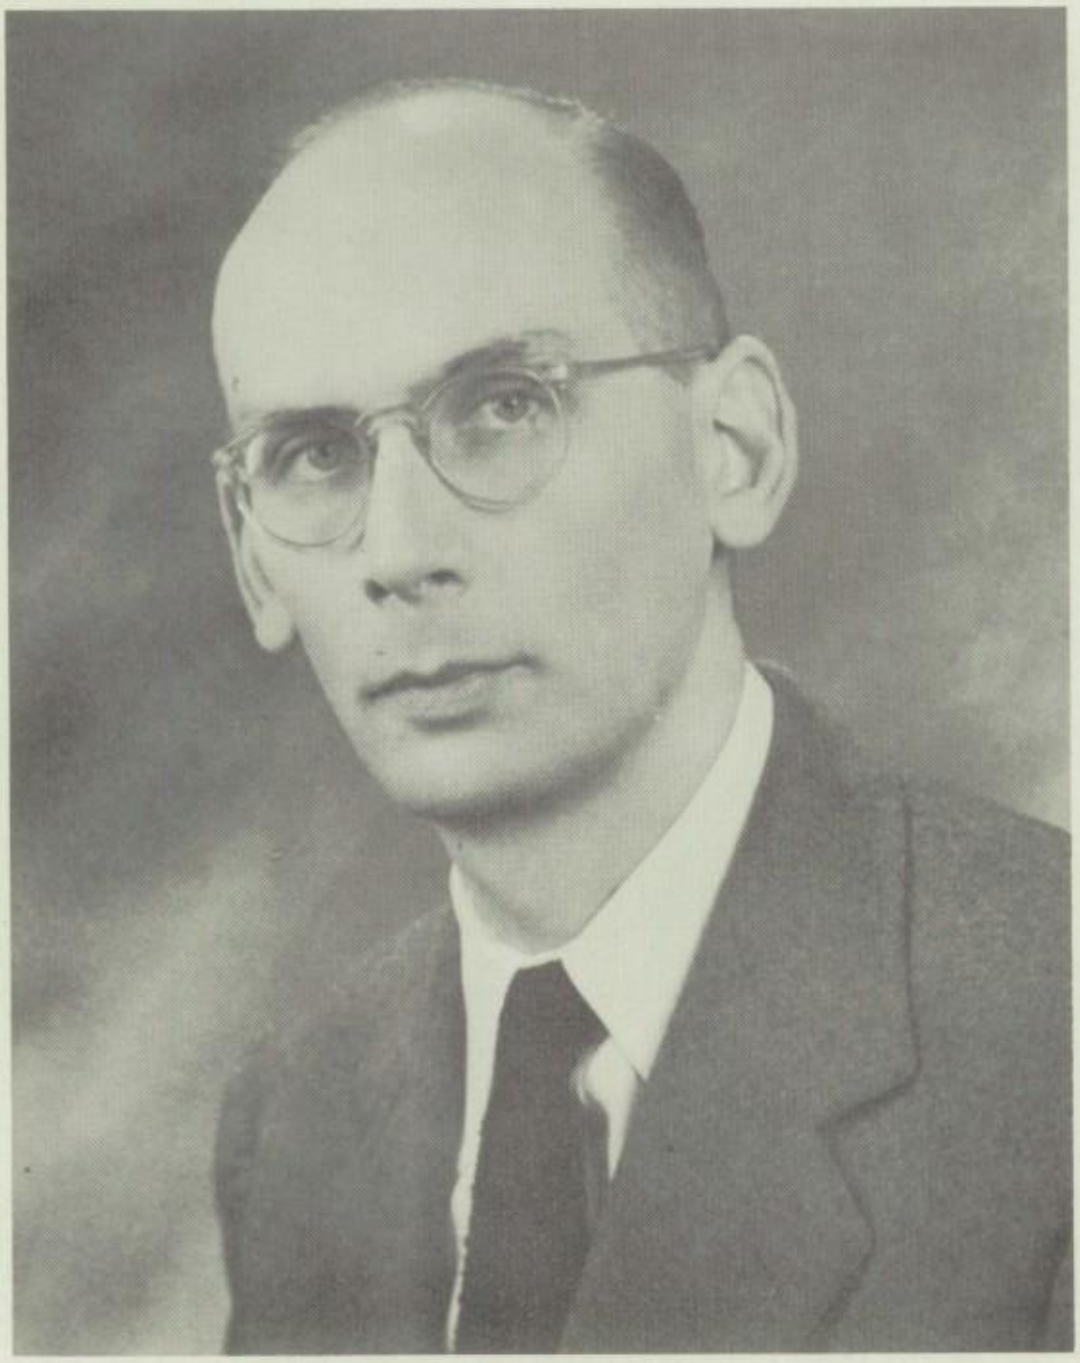
GREENFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

Greenfield High School - - - - When we hear those words, most of us think of little things: - the milk line at the "cafe" - - the dash for assembly seats - - last minute copying of themes - - the smell of "rotten-egg" gas once a year on the top floor - - the cloud of lilac blossoms at the front entrance - - "Luke" shoveling snow from the front walk. All these, insignificant in themselves, add up to a lasting impression of our high school years. The success and happiness we have found here have meant much to us, for we know that all of our experiences in Greenfield High represent something that occurs "Once in a Lifetime".

DEDICATION

To Milo F. Galbraith, our class counselor, we dedicate our yearbook with sincerest gratitude for the contributions he has made to the success of our class. Always ready with a smile, a friendly word, and a helping hand, he guided us through our high school activities until December of our senior year when he was called into the service of his country as a captain in the army. He has been more than a counselor - he has been a friend and co-worker. To him, therefore, a fine teacher, soldier, and citizen, we make this dedication.

APPRECIATION



To William L. Hubbard go our warmest thanks for his "service beyond the line of duty". In spite of an already crowded schedule, he has filled his spare moments with supervising many Greenfield High activities. He is faculty advisor to our newspaper, "The Exponent". His direction was largely responsible for the success of our senior play. But most of all we personally thank him for stepping in when our counselor left to take over the entire supervision of this yearbook. Our greatest wish is that he may feel it was worth the time and effort he gave to it.

FAREWELL

Miss Partenheimer, our school librarian for twenty-six years, is retiring this June. She has shown herself an excellent librarian in many ways and is known throughout the state for her work. Although she may not realize it, even we (the students) appreciated her superior system. She is going to be greatly missed by her many friends.

Miss Partenheimer attended the Greenfield schools and then graduated with an A. B. degree from Smith College. She was employed one year in the Danbury, Connecticut Library and four years in the Chicopee Library. Returning to her home town, she served at the Public Library as first assistant and then in the Carnegie Library in Turners Falls. A few years later, she received the position as Greenfield High School Librarian.

When she first came back to Greenfield, she was Secretary of the Teachers Club and has since been Trustee for the Public Library, Secretary of the P. T. A., President of the Smith Club, Secretary of the A. A. U. W., and an active member of the Women's Club and the Eastern Star.

Miss Partenheimer is an ambitious collector of miniatures. She has an astounding assortment of library post cards and miniature books, animals, birds, etc. Her most prized treasure is a collection of string beads from every state in the Union and every continent in the world. After retiring, she plans to start work on a collection of sea-shells.

We, the students of Greenfield High, wish her the best of luck.

CLASS SONG

Tune: "'Way Down Upon the Swanee River"

Three years we've worked and played together,
Had strife and fun.
Time cannot force its way between us,
The Class of Fifty-One.

School has led us through our troubles
When our hearts were low.
We'll always have its inspiration,
Wherever we may go.

Time and tide ne'er waited for us;
We must hurry on.
Bright is the burning light before us;
Brave is our last "So Long".

— Robert McClure Chase, Jr.

IVY ODE

Tune: "Tell Me Why"

Ivy, we give thee with solemn prayer
To Mother Nature's enduring care.
Reach with thy roots into Her rich sod;
Unfold thy leaf-crowned head to God.

Now but a seedling within our hand,
Grow in the future and learn to stand
Steadfast with courage that shall not fail,
Though all the Furies may thee assail.

As now before us our lives unfold,
Thy life, O Ivy, may we behold
Guiding us onward by night or day,
Showing us ever the upward way.

THE
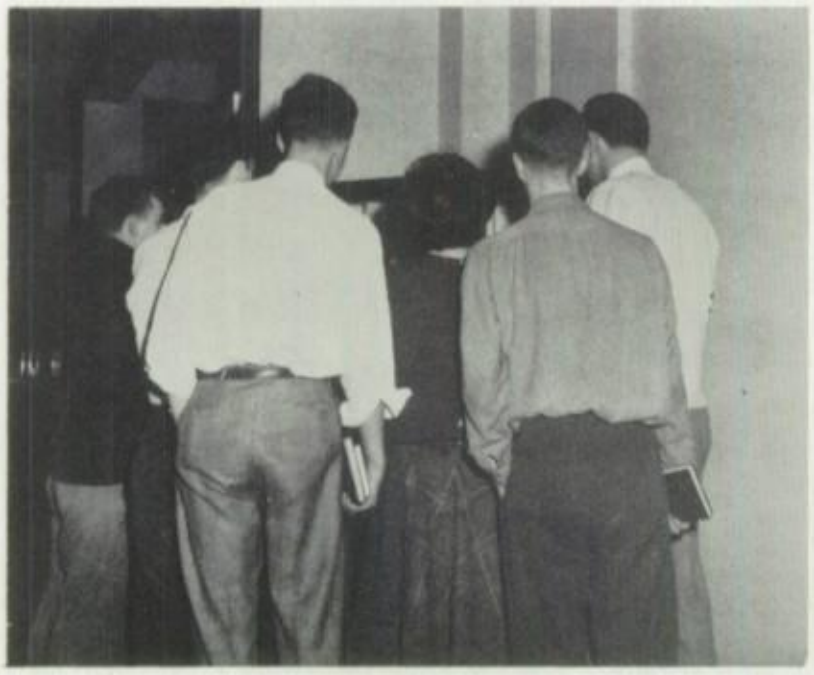
Banjo~

THE GREEN YEARS
I

On a bright September morning three years ago you and I were carrying brand new notebooks or new plaid pencilcases up the front walk of Greenfield High School for the first time. Three years — it sounds like a long time, but oh how quickly it has gone by.



Remember that first mad scramble at the bulletin board as we tried to read what home room we were placed in? And just think — we had assembly every day that first week while the cheerleaders drilled us for the cheering contest at the fair.

Turners Falls just managed to eke out a one and one third point victory over our Georgerian trained team. However, we tied with Turners for the cheering cup. Mr. "Phil' Johnson, our new music supervisor, and the cheerleaders did a swell job.

Then suddenly the fun was over, and we came staggering home under a load of books after a five period day. Junior High was never like this.

Class elections next stole the limelight, and we elected Dick Prescott, President; Chris Collins, Vice-President; Phyllis Babcock, Secretary; and Ellen Erisman, Treasurer. Remember those embarrassing nominations and Chrissie's blush?

We watched a wonderful football team headed by such familiar names as Lenny Harris and Juice Moore. Except for a few disagreements down the valley, we should have had the Western Massachusetts Championship.

II

September dragged us back with torn, ragged notebooks and dirty plaid pencilcases to endure with Junior indifference the trials and tribulations of high school students.

Greenfield must have been out of favor with Lady Luck that year, because Turners took all the honors (even Turkey Day) across the river. Sonny Allen stands out as the big track star. Remember how he could throw that shotput!

Elections brought Robert Britton, President; Chris Collins, Vice-President; Dorothy Taylor, Secretary; and Ellen Erisman back as Treasurer.

All fall and winter sports were resumed. The girls' new coach, Miss Schneider, worked them into fine field hockey, basketball, and softball teams. Win or lose, the girls always seemed to have a terrific time.

Our unforgettable class dance that year was an old clothes party highlighted by a fashion show. "Imported" models included Chris Collins, Dick Prescott, Rollo Emery, Ray Dykes, and the stunning Elmer Waite.

Soon after Christmas vacations, that terrible January curse was upon us again. At least most of us.

And after that we had to vote on class rings. Do you still have yours?

Was that the year "Stogy" Stan Benjamin broke his collarbone in a donkey baseball game? Why don't those animals pick on someone their own size?

(On your right, Dykes is the one with the hat.)

A big accident occured in the auto shop. The snow on the roof became too heavy and caused a cave-in. With the burning of Dickinson House two years ago this accident makes the second new building the school is going to need.

Our Junior year also saw Greenfield High School get a face-lifting. The Classes of '48 and '49 had given the school a new gray and maroon cyclorama. To complete the color scheme, the whole assembly hall was repainted.

Even more than that was the painting of all the first floor classrooms in pastel blues, yellows and neutrals. What a difference it made! The northern rooms received warm colors and the southern ones, the cooler shades.

But of all this rejuvenating, the most constant source of temptation was that contraption on wheels which was used when the ceilings throughout the school were sound-proofed. How we yearned to give it a good hard shove and send it careening down the corridor.

Slowly that endless year drew to a close. With more exams and final tests we were all ready for a nice long rest — teachers included.

III

Finally we reached our senior year in high school and found it better than our wildest dreams. How quickly the time flew by as we tried to grasp and hold on to each fleeting second.

The fair was wonderful. Turners took track honors, as usual, but Greenfield won the entire cheering cup back for the first time in four years. Remember the wrestler and Brian Shumway? What a brute — (the wrestler, not Brian).

After the fair came elections. Poor Mr. Watt — our class gave him a hard time. What energetic campaigns were staged. Using the new democratic voting system, we elected "Mitzi" Croteau, President; Alan Lyman, Vice - President; Jane Wandeloski, Secretary; and Ellen Erisman re-elected Treasurer. And what was that monstrosity which paraded before the entrance of the assembly hall that day?

Elections were barely over when the Senior Play held the stage. "The Man Who Came to Dinner" including wheelchair, cockroaches, penquins, and mummy case was a wallopping success.

The fair, elections, senior play, Christmas concert — the scenes flash before our eyes as on a screen. But the sports cannot be ignored — not with teams like ours.

The football season saw us crowding around the new refreshment booth. Mr. Watt welcomed us with a hearty "Come and get your nice cold soda" on the bleakest day of the season. The beautiful field house at Veterans Memorial Field was finally completed and everyone loved it. Co-captains Emery and Joslyn led their team to six wins and three defeats — a very fine record. Thanksgiving we literally blazed our way to a 33 - 6 win over Turners. The game was preceded by our assembly rally decorated by these monstrosities.

The basketball team kept up the good work by tying with Northampton for second place. Holyoke was first. The annual Faculty game was the usual degrading slaughter for the poor undernourished faculty. However, the teachers did have a new twist this year. When "Stan" Benjamin found himself "boxed in", he heaved the ball to the nearby referee who vainly tried to score. This is known as bringing in a "ringer".

Another new teacher was Mr. (Ahh-hh) Casey, the junior class counsellor. Remember, girls?

During January and February the yearbook was being created. As a point of interest the Advertising Committee beat the record set by the Class of 1949 by several dollars.

Mr. Francis Carver, our new music supervisor, began his duties in the fall. The operetta "Down in the Valley", a spring event, was the result of his efforts. Anne McGuane and Dick Shattuck played the leading parts in the story of Jennie Parsons and Brack Weaver.

Our Class Banquet would have been a huge success in the three walls of the Bloody Brook Inn.

All good things must come to an end, and although during our school years studying seemed anything but a "good thing", the last few weeks became more than ever a door closing on years of fun, friendship, and hard work.

Our last week, Senior Week, was aglow with memories of the beautiful Commencement Dance, the delicious banquet (the night after), Class Day, Senior Service, and graduation night. As we walked across the stage for the last time and received that slim roll of paper, we all realized what we were leaving behind. We'll miss our friends, we'll miss the teachers, but most of all, we'll miss the carefree joy of high school activities — the joy in youth that comes to everyone only once in alifetime.

PRO-MERITO

The Pro Merito is the Honor Society of Greenfield High School. Under the direction of Miss Marion Bartlett, the organization has helped the school on numerous occasions and at non-curricular activities at the auditorium. This year's group consists of Marilyn Barrise, Marie Bellefeuille, Pauline Bibby, William Boguslawski, Carole Brissette, Phyllis Bryant, Joanne Brzezinski, Phyllis Cadran, Robert Chase, Christopher Colinls, Barbara Crowley, Paul Crowley, Barbara Curtis, Madeline Daigneault, Ann Davey, Margaret Dedinas, Joseph Drumgool, Ellen Erisman, Carolyn Gass, Phyllis Hale, Betty Johnson, Alan Kelly, Mildred Keyes, Evelyn Lewis, Alan Lyman, Richard Prescott, Norma Renfrew, Joanne Robert, Katherine Stebbins, Jane Wandeloski, and Robert Warriner. The elected officers (at right) were: William Boguslawski, President; Phyllis Hale, Vice-President; and Ellen Erisman, Secretary.

CHEERLEADERS

Carole Woodlock '53 El zabeth Erisman '53 Sandra August '53 Barbara Clifford '52 Patricia Murphy '52 Joan Hayes '52 Rosemary O'Hara '51 Ellen Erisman '51 MaryJo McNicholas '51

This year the Greenfield High School cheerleaders under the capable leadership of MaryJo McNicholas added another cheering to the school trophy case. The cheering squad was awarded this cup at the Franklin County Fair for excelling in good sportsmanship, teamwork, and cooperation.

During the football and basketball seasons the cheerleaders attended all home and away games. With their pep and vigor they led the entire student body in varied cheers. Their upright spirit and enthusiasm raised the morale of the squads and helped bring many victories to their alma mater.

The cheerleaders, however, accomplished more than cheering their teams to victory. To help defray the cost of their snappy uniforms, they sold candy at all the home basketball games.

This year, the club got under way without too much trouble and after digging up reports on last years' Commencement Dance to smile happily over the profit (about $60), settled down to the task of getting Football Programs out before game time. The programs come color-printed from Coca-Cola and the High School Shop sticks in the line-ups. It sounds easy, but, for some reason or other, Dick Prescott or Shattuck was always tearing around two days before the game trying to get the visiting teams' line-up or attempting to get enough copies to Mr. Taylor.

Just after the football season, our able and heavily relied upon counsellor, Mr. Sander was stricken ill. For awhile the club slid downhill. President Shattuck continued to call meetings, but without the guiding light of our counsellor, they were poorly attended. Things looked bad when Sam Woffindin who already had his hands full with the newly founded Tri-Hi-Y lent a strong arm of help. At this point the club learned that Mr. Sander would not be able to return as advisor and also that Sam was moving to Connecticut — now, things began to happen fast. Before we knew it, Shattuck announced that Mr. Card of the Junior High would be willing to try to fill the vacant position. Attendance picked up at once, and soon the Hi-Y was under way.

The Hi-Y Scolarship Fund, which was awarded to Richard Sautter last year, was renamed as The Benjamin C. L. Sander Scholarship and at the moment totals about four hundred dollars. This figure was given to me by our excellent treasurer Elmer Waite who has succeeded by some means or other in keeping the books straight.

And so, after completing the rather large order of handling the Commencement Dance, the club closed its books on another year of varied activity and turned to salute Mr. Sander for his twenty-six years of strong, steady guidance of the Hi-Y of Greenfield High.

SENIOR PLAY

"THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER", a three act comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufman, was selected as the Class Play. Under the tireless direction of Mr. William L. Hubbard, the production was presented on the nights of November seventeenth and eighteenth. Robert Chase played the role of Sheridan Whiteside and Marie Bellefeuille took the part of his charming but bewildered secretary, Maggie.

As the result of an injured hip, Whiteside is forced to stay in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stanley, a prominent family of Mesalia, Ohio. It is here that Maggie falls in love with Bert Jefferson, editor of the local newspaper, and tells Sherry that she is going to leave. To stop this, Whiteside imports a notorious actress, Lorraine Sheldon, to lure Jefferson away. Maggie, upon seeing this, imports the ham actor Beverly Carlton to lure Lorraine away. While everybody is luring everybody else away, Mr. Stanley orders Whiteside from the house. But Whiteside has discovered Mr. Stanley's sister to be amurderess and, consequently, has everything under control.

With the help of Banjo, a card from Hollywood, Sherry manages to clear things up and everything ends happily with Maggie marrying Bert, Lorraine being shipped off in an old mummy case, and Whiteside breaking his other hip as he is leaving the house.

The Student Council, the governing board of the high school, has taken an active part in many school affairs. Composed of a representative from each home room and shop, the group held monthly meetings. All authority and permission for school activities stems from the council and this year the charters of the newly-formed Ski Club and Tri-Hi-Y Club were approved. The council has tried to promote closer harmony among the student body and the council by appointing non-council committees such as: the S. A. S., the Franklin County Fair, the Sympathy, and the Assembly Program.

This year the Student Council introduced the new and democratic procedure for electing class and home room officials. The regular voting booths were set up in the auditorium, and the new system received praise from both students and faculty. Also this year, various council members attended the Regional and State Council Conferences as well as the National Student Council Convention. Funds for these trips were partially raised by the "Variety Show".

With the sponsering of the Model Town Elections and the awarding of the "Silver G's, the council ended another year of successful operation.

The 1951 Bowling Club rolled through another striking year. Under the watchful eye of Mr. Georgerian and the iron hand of Miss Chludzinski the members met every Thursday at Leaders Alleys and split into two competing groups — the gentlemen against the ladies. This year's club was so "hot" that they used nothing but candlepins. After demonstration sessions by their advisor, the members went at it on their own hook and usually produced good results with at least one pin boy knocked unconscious.

This all for fun organization has been operating successfully for a number of years and seems to be well attended. Greenfield's facilities for a club of this type are ample, and the future looks bright for a well made "strike".

Through the tireless efforts of our faculty advisers, Miss Curtis and Miss Rose, the Forum Club had a most successful year.

The first meeting was held on Noverber 30, 1950. Ellen Erisman, Ray Dykes, Pauline Bibby, Paul Crowley, Phyllis Cadran, Marie Bellefeuille, and Alan Lyman discussed the advantages and disadvantages of a six period day. At this time, the Club elected its officers.

At the second meeting Mr. Stephen Maniatty was guest speaker and presented some very interesting color films of his recent trip through the European countries.

At the third, Silvija Smelins, William Boguslawski, Annelises Soellner, and Miss Bretsdner each told of the life and country in their respective land.

Mr. Herbert M. Darling was the guest speaker at the fourth. This prominent member of our community talked about "Town Government and Its Functions".

On March fifteenth, Peggy Moran, Ellen Erisman, Evelyn Lewis, Robert Britton, Michael Maniatty, Harry Williford, Marie Bellefeuille, MaryJo McNicholas, Joseph Drumgool, and Ann Varilly talked on problems of interest to youth.

Last October saw the beginning of the Greenfield Tri-Hi-Y Club. Through the efforts of the local Y director, Sam Woffindin, the club was organized and the following officers were elected: Pres., Barbara Curtis; Vice-Pres., Evelyn Lewis; Secretary, Marcia Ingham; Treasurer, Susan Gortner; Chaplain, Barbara Crowley, and Program Chairman, Ruth Lapides. The Tri-Hi-Y and the Y joined forces for a Christmas carolling tour around Greenfield on a fire truck. At Christmas the girls supplied a local family with two boxes of food. Money was earned by candy sales and other projects. Early in March, the club was host to the Massachusetts-Rhode Island Older Girls' Conference.

When "Sam" left Greenfield, the club presented him with a briefcase at a party held in his honor. To fill his position Miss Martha Ward was chosen as the club advisor.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Carver, the girls' glee club has shown much enthusiasm and interest in singing. Besides performing in a number of assembly programs, the club, assisted by the boys' section, appeared in the annual Christmas Concert. Replacing the musical show this year was the operetta, "Down In The Valley" with the important chorus formed by the mixed clubs.

Because many high school boys showed an interest in group singing, a boys' glee club was organized this year. Although this group didn't function as a separate unit, their voices added body and harmony to the mixed chorus.

Both sections attended the Western Massachusetts Music Festival.

The editors have been gratified to have fifty-seven staff members, showing a 100% increase in the Journalism Class membership. Also, ten boys of the Vocational Department have acted as shop representatives.

The Journalism Class — synonymous with the Exponent staff — has well achieved its major purpose of publishing the ten issues of the school paper and has accomplished the minor one of studying the history of American Journalism and the principles of effective journalistic writing.

The staff has been important in the interests of the paper. Fourteen sophomores have assisted in the exchange program, involving forty-three schools, and the juniors — headed by Susan Gortner — assumed the responsibility of publishing the April Fool and Junior issues.

The Columbia Interscholastic Press Association has named the "Exponent" of this year to third place in its national contest. Conventions of the Western Massachusetts League of School Publications have been attended by staff delegates, and competition in the League has won recognition for the paper and the school.

The editors and the fine spirit of all concerned have done much to raise even higher the standard of the "Exponent" and to make it an influential medium upon which our school could depend.

The Camera Club of Greenfield High School drew a large membership this year and rolled on a varied and interesting schedule. As usual, the art of developing and printing was demonstrated, practiced, and mastered, but when Christmas drifted in, the shutter-bugs produced a number of unique greeting cards using actual photographs. A combined field trip and picnic, and a party held at Mr. Weymouth's home on Bernardston Road added to the pleasure and enjoyment of the members.

This year a dark room was dedicated to the club right here in G. H. S. It is located somewhere between the Bush Laboratorys and the Science Lecture Hall. Latest reports disclosed that Mr. Weymouth had the key.

A number of prized prints were entered in the National Amateur Photographers Association's Contest. As yet, no first prizes have been received.

Although the Greenfield High School Band has not been too terrifically active this year, the members of the organization wish to thank Mr. Carver, our new musical director, for the fine job he has done at the football games and at our assemblies. Even in the short time since his arrival the band has improved, and we really had something to march into assembly to besides the roll of drums.

The Senior members of the band would like to wish Mr. Carver and the underclassmen a most successful future.

Track was recognized as a major sport this year in Greenfield High. The team's spirit was very high, and wherever they went they stamped the name of Greenfield well up on the records.

This year found at Univ. of Mass. for the High School Relays, at North Adams for a Dual Meet, at Westfield for a Quadrangular Meet, and at Pittsfield for the Western Mass. Track Meet.

This isn't coming out exactly as was planned, but on page 83 at the bottom you noticed a picture of a group of speedsters waiting for the gun. While they were waiting we thought it was a good setup for a picture, so we sent for Mr. Dunbar who got this fine shot just before the gun went off. From left to right are Joe Daniels, Pete Conway, Al Singley, Clayt Peters, Rollo Emery, Jack Taylor, Butch Britton, Johnny Joslyn and Peter Sak.

In back: Cloyed Ross, Francis Quinn, and Al Lyman.

Coached by Mr. Raymond Spencer of Greenfield, the tennis team did very well this year against a number of schools. Matches were held with Westfield, Turners, Brattleboro, Deerfield, Athol, and Springfield Classical.

The team began its season on the Turners courts (risky business) which are constructed of asphalt and can be used as soon as the snow goes. However, they were stationed back in their home town when Grennfield's clay courts at Beacon Field were made ready.

This ends our boy's sports section, and the girl's start on the right. This will probably be as interesting to the boys as the preceding pages were to the girls.

We are very sorry that the spring sports; baseball, track, etc., can't be more fully covered: If possible, they would be given as much space, and maybe even more, as the fall events, but the printers of this book need the material about two months before school closes, and, at this time, the spring sports are just beginning.

Looks like the real thing—but it isn't. Those two action shots were taken this spring when the Yearbook Committee finally decided to have a more expansive girls' sports section. There doesn't seem to be much doing in the first, but the lid has blown off in the second and the ball is being clubbed from one end of the field to the other.

Co-captains Barrise and Curtis out for a little air. Looks like the bench (right) had too much for Christmas.

Here's a terrific action shot of Barb Davis, Betty Clark, Barb Clifford, and Ellie Smith.

JV BASKETBALL

The screen behind her is part of the new softball diamond which was laid out this year behind the high school.

Q. C. Hamer

These two shots were made when the Class of '51 put on their Junior Dance. On the left is "Elmer" Waite drawing up some posters. Careful investigation disclosed that the glass on the table is water. The other scene is at the gym where a crew is erecting decorations. The cheery group is "Elmer", Anne Hamer, Betty Preble,and Chris Collins doing all the work, as usual.

Miss "Rollo" Emery modeling at last year's Junior Dance. The men went wild.

Dave Eisner involved in a complex mathematical computation. Einstein disagrees.

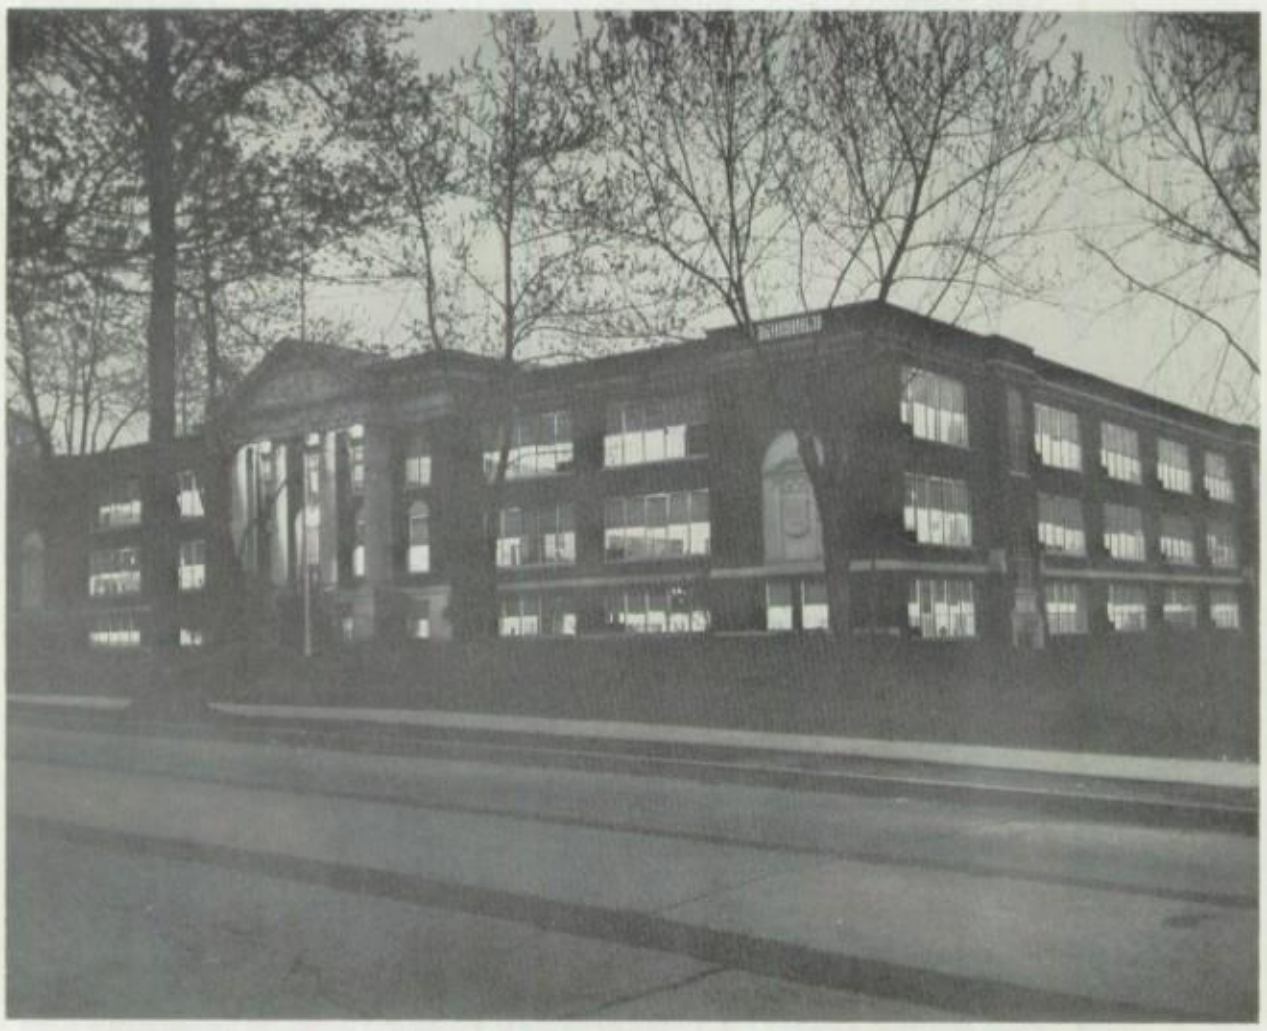
This was at a party at Britton's farm. "Bill" Stafford appears to be enjoying himself.

Prescott, Hamilton, Crowley, Burnham, Suhl, Babcock, Stamas, Lyman, and Gleason a-carolling.

Anne McGuane, MaryJo McNicholas, Ellen Erisman, and Peggy Moran having a terrific time. This must be after the Holyoke game.

Closing scene of the Senior Play. Left to right is Dick Shattuck who played John, Al Lyman who starred as Bert Jefferson, Bob Chase who tottered along as Sherry, Ronny Hall who was the veterinarian, and Betty Preble who played Sarah, the cook.

"Fred" Budarz
just takin' it easy.



The Hall of Knowledge. This picture was made during our first period, 5:15 to 6:20.

"Larry" Shumway at the top of the front steps taken by "Flash" Eisner at the bottom of the front steps. The negative was developed at the Eisner Photographic Corp.

"Mitzi" Croteau, our Class President, engaged in a little homework. The fire bug in the background is Johnny Joslyn.

On the left is a shot of our cheerleaders. This was taken by an alert photographer who, although about one minute tardy, wouldn't go away without a picture. The unusual result was returned to his boss who fired him immediately.

"Butch" Britton at Mad River Glen, Vermont and his sidekick "Jack" Pochus. The skiing was reported to be excellent and it snowed every day they were there.

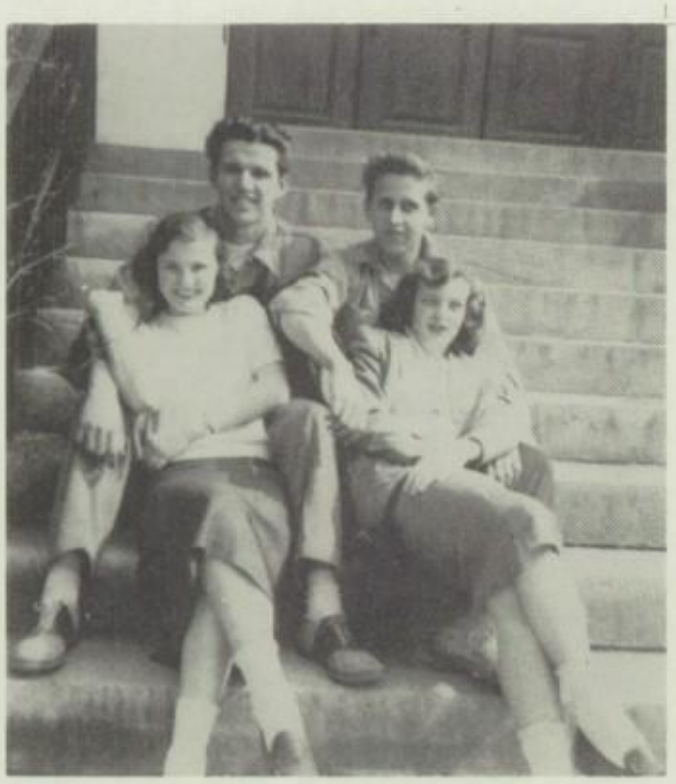
an a-listnin'.



The men are Larry Shumway and George Shensky. The girls are Rosemary O'Hara and Phyl Babcock.

On the right is a scene from the Turkey Day game. The baton is held by Pauline Denison and we couldn't decide who the bashful cheerleader was who is hiding behind her. Anne McGuane is in the center and MaryJo is on the right.

MILLERS FALLS TOOLS SINCE 1868

We congratulate you upon the completion of your High School course. Your diploma is the symbol of a wise investment in permanent values — values that will be a sound foundation for continued growth, wherever you go, whatever you do.

Sometime in the future you will have a need for tools — for your job, or your hobby, or home repairs. When this time comes, look for the Millers Falls trademark — the symbol of permanency on tools. Since 1868 we have constantly searched for better materials, designs, and finishes to give lifetime utility to the tools we manufacture. Given reasonable care these tools will "season" in use, taking on a character all your own and will be lifetime friends known and proven by the work they perform.
